WHAT IS THE PROJECT		WHO IS INVOLVED		WHAT IS THE PROJECT
Hi there, you are not really solving computer games but that's what I use for Year 6 with their ideas then, to see our going round on circles and getting nowhere fast (or worse) - you can find some really good games online. I have a few ideas for the first week of term 2, to link to the second article (the prediction) along with an in-class exercise and after that a few more ideas for the next few weeks.		Ms Butcher		07/03/2007 20:30
Other Game Ideas Here are some other computer game ideas if you fancy having a go. I am using a PS2 in my class, it saves any hassle with loading stuff onto the already crammed and slow computers. You just plug it into a TV or whiteboard and play. You can also play DVD's from it as well. With PS3 just out, prices are dropping dramatically, get my PS2 from eBay for £50, games I'm paying about £3 but can be rented...	2	Ms Butcher		02/04/2007 15:09	Ms. Baker
Other Game Ideas David - brilliant thanks - must get you another identity!! Anna	0	A. Rossvoil		03/04/2007 12:27
Other Game Ideas This sounds like really good stuff. Can you let us know a bit more about how you are using some of these games? What aspects of the curriculum are you linking the games to for instance?	0	Derek. Robertson		12/04/2007 15:50
Want to be Head? Hi David, Can you add the URL to your walkthrough in the with Admin Finance Meeting		A. Rossvoil		14/04/2007 19:30

Learning Log	Please keep a learning log in this area. As a team: what you did, when you did it, how much you learned, how well you worked as a team and what you would still like to know. M. Macphail
Learning Log	We met for this first time after the holidays today. We are agreeing to meet every day, Tuesday and Wednesday lunch time. We are designing the monster and talking about the plot. We need to work very hard and fast. J. Pryde
Learning Log	On Tuesday we visited the Victorian classroom in Ancrem Road primary school. We had a look around and realised how hard life was in the Victorian era. E. McAdam
Learning Log	Today Jemima and I were painting the big picture of the main monster. We need to find a way of working better as a team though. D. Keith gw07prydejemma2	Hi Brian, I'm JeMma here.

gw07kellybrian	Hi JeMma - are you on your own today?
gw07prydejemma2	No, it's just we are on one compt. Elle and Daniel are here 2 gw07kellybrian	OK - what questions have u got for me today?
gw07prydejemma2	We wanted 2 no if there were chip shops in those days.
gw07kellybrian	I don't think chip shops became popular until near the end of Victorian times gw07prydejemma2	When did they then?
gw07kellybrian	I've just been checking... there was a street stall in dundee in the 1870s that sold chips gw07prydejemma2	That was in Victorian times then wasn't it?
gw07kellybrian	oh... earlier than I thought.
gw07prydejemma2	Did they get school dinners
gw07kellybrian	not in Victorian times... school dinners weren't introduced in dundee until just before first world war gw07prydejemma2	How many were in the class?
gw07kellybrian	classes were bigger than today- maybe 40 or even 50 children gw07prydejemma2	That's a lot gw07kellybrian	and no group work - the whole class were taught together gw07prydejemma2	did you stay till you were 16?
gw07kellybrian	the leaving age changed during Victorian times - at first you could leave at 9 or 10 but later you had to stay on to 13 or 14
